MEMORANDUM FOR

Director of Soviet Analysis

FROM:

Chief, Plans and Policy Branch
Public Affairs Division

SUBJECT:

Briefing at Headquarters of the Coro
Foundation of Southern California

STAT

1. This is to confirm our phone conversation of last week concerning your briefing of the Coro Foundation of Southern California regarding the Soviet threat to American security. Attached is some background information on the Coro Foundation.

2. This request was passed to us by Craig Fuller, Assistant to the President for Cabinet Affairs, and was approved by Mr. Casey as noted on the attached. As you will note in the brochure, the Coro Foundation is a non-profit educational foundation that sponsors a number of programs at the post-graduate level. This year their focus is on presidential initiative toward public and private sector partnerships and growth in the Defense budget. Adjunct to this is the Soviet threat to American security as perceived by the Intelligence Community--a topic we would like you to address. This group will be meeting with senior White House staff and Members and staff of Congress.

3. As scheduled now, Mr. Casey will open up the briefing at 2:00 p.m. with some remarks on the state of intelligence and our need for FOIA release. At approximately 2:30 p.m. you are scheduled to follow with a substantive briefing on the Soviet threat. We have allocated an hour for your presentation during which you should also allow time for questions and answers. After your presentation, a representative from Recruitment Division will briefly describe employment opportunities with the Agency. If at all possible, please plan to attend all portions of the briefing.
